Hello, beautiful, I am reachable, you have reached me more than you know. Dr. Parker contacted me today, and I am ready to close things and not be angry anymore.

Work is really pressing this week, I have a ton to do, and I am only one, where there should be a team. My parts for my laptop came today, and I have just finished configuring everything. It rocks. Light up green keyboard and all.

How is work? Have you moved to the other store yet? It made my day when you texted me yesterday, and it did not even involve sex.

For some reason I was really anxious again last night. Work maybe.

I am still wishing for that quality time with you. and...

I need to finish writing you parts of my "story."

I am about to put minutes on my phone. So....

ciao, bella flora.

71. Ask your partner "What is the most difficult part of being (in a relationship) with me.

67. Never underestimate the power of love.

57. Don't continue doing the same things and expect different results.

62. Don't overanalyze the flaws.

Hello, my beautiful hard working sweetheart. I miss you and your smile. I can pay half of Gabe's braces. It would be a pleasure to do so. He is part of you, and you are part of him, I understood that from the start.

I miss you.

Michael

THE ADVANTAGES OF HAVING CHILDREN IN LATER LIFE

Finally then, after potential parents have weighed the age factor in terms of conceiving and carrying a pregnancy to term, they may be comforted to know that a child born to older parents does have advantages. In some studies that have controlled for social factors and parity, such children do better at school than those of very young parents.<sup>12,13</sup> In the demanding task of raising children, older parents may be less resilient than younger ones, but their experience and knowledge are almost bound to be greater, their economic situation better, and child rearing more affordable. Biologic disadvantage is to a degree balanced by social advantage.

Please do not feel pressed, I do not mean to be intrusive into your decisions, I want to be a part of the parts I may...

As sweet as it sounds...I have no interest in having a baby with you, or anyone else for that matter. I do not even want to date anyone right now. Please understand I am just very busy with work and Christmas and being the best mom I can be, currently. You are going to have to stop pursuing me. It is not fair to you at this stage in your life to have false hopes with me, when the one you are supposed to be with is out there waiting for you. You really are a great catch. You deserve everything you are desiring. However, all I can offer you at this time is friendship. You did nothing wrong, it is simply a matter of timing.

That said...How was your day?

My day was good, I did my flea market thing this morning, and have some planning to do for the next week at work. I ate some good chicken today, and went to target and a vet to fill out an app for a part time job today also. One of the guys who wants to help me form my group called me, and I went to the movies last night to see Immortals in 3D. I know you are very busy. Friends spend time together too, you know. Then I have the time to wait. If I deserve what I desire, then I deserve to be your man.

Six weeks it has been since we slept together. Midnight? It is not about the sex, it is about being with you.

Look, I could have chosen to pursue anyone I wanted, at any time. As far as I am concerned, it IS supposed to be you. I cannot explain it, I cannot fully understand it, I just know that YOU make me feel like this, YOU and your smile, and beauty, and all of your other super qualities and virtues, this is why my heart opened.
