Morning ms. Becca.... what are you doing this fine saturday morning? That mountain over tjere is incredible. Wow. I am off to the flea market, so if you are searching for something let me know. Has to fit in a backpack though. Found another bike like mine yesterday. Pretty nice. Michael

Time for me to hit the hay. I hope your day was good. I am still looking for a motorcycle mechanic job here in phoenix. Busy week ahead. I checked the housing situation there in tuscon. It costs more to live there because of the university. There IS a place down there I like alot, but will have to wait on the call back from the computer admin position before I make any more decisions. I am adventuring so to speak. But do like it here in AZ quite a bit. Better than florida for sure. I do not move around, just needed a change. Thanks for talking to me. Maybe you would show me around the mountains one day. Hiking. I saw your shoes yesterday..... definately walking shoes. :) Michael

I lived in the alps for six years.. I climbed every weekend when possible. Just start walking and go. I went to three swap meets today. Bought a nice shirt, something for my mom, and a pinapple. And some tools too.... good ones for a really good price. I make a little moeney reselling them. Can I call you tomorrow evening?

Hay there. I was watching football, and now if I call it will be too loud again. The man and woman I am staying with go to bed early.... and the walls are paper thin. I went hiking today. Wow. All the way to the top of the mountain at Usury park. Amazing! I finally fixed the valve problems on my motorbike too.... so it has been a good day tomorrow will be very busy... I hope I do not sit at the dmv all day! How is work? More movies? Or a book tonight? How was your day? Do ypu have a facebook page? Me

Old sci fi. Cooool. Robbie the robot is awsome. I had the opportunity to go see lost planet outside at the space center in fl,l but had no one to go with me..... no matter about the facebook thing. I like to put my pictures on there, but have only 30 "freinds". I have not been climbing in more than 4 years. It was super! I missed mountains alot. I lived in denver for six months, and worked so much I never even had a chance to go out and explore.
